Quality Cast Stone for Any Project

AHI has been producing top-quality cast stone for over 21 years. Custom designs are developed for all scopes of projects. Architects specify our products as aesthetically appealing materials of proven durability for highly demanding projects. AHI is committed to manufacturing quality architectural cast stone at an affordable price with a focus on customer satisfaction and service. Your designs are always welcome in our custom shop and our design department is always ready to assist you with your ideas.

We have the distinction of being the oldest, continually producing manufacturer of cast stone products in the Houston area. In 2001, we became a proud member of the Cast Stone Institute whose high standards of production guidelines and quality control requirements have become the benchmark in the industry. The home featured on the front was a 2008 winner from the Cast Stone Institute's Residential category.

AHI is also a member of the following associations as well:
